

'Seaman Admits Moon Valley's Cabin Murders

By JOHN B. CURTIS
Eureka, Calif., July 6. (P)—A husky, 34-year-old merchant mariner and ex-convict surrendered last night and in a signed statement admitted the Fourth of July bludgeoning slayings of two men in a cabin overlooking the Valley of the Moon.

The man, Henry Brun Guldbrandsen, gave himself up to Ed Neumeier, a cub reporter, and Elmer Hodgkinson, editor of the Humboldt Times.

In a long, wandering statement, he for the most part corroborated the hysterical tale told by Mrs. Eva Paget, 27-year-old mother of two. Her story of rape and murder set off one of the most intensive man-hunts in recent northern California history.

But Guldbrandsen denied he had raped Mrs. Paget, a Berkeley woman who had been vacationing in Jack London's old territory 200 miles south of here in the Sonoma Valley. Guldbrandsen said she had submitted to him to "soothe" him, after he had bludgeoned her.

In the Sonoma hospital where she is in a critical condition from the attack and beating, Mrs. Paget reiterated she had been raped. And hospital attaches commented on Guldbrandsen's assertion: "That's ridiculous!"

Guldbrandsen signed a statement, first for the newspaper and later for the sheriff's office, admitting slaying his friend, Lt. Peter J. Flint, 31, of the merchant marine, and Flint's longtime friend, Peter J. Jensen, 55, landscape gardener for the Sonoma state hospital.

The nude bodies of Flint and Jensen, covered by sheets, were found in beds in separate rooms of Jensen's curio-laden home in the Trinit Mountains, northwest of Sonoma.

Officers went there yesterday after Mrs. Paget, bleeding, hysterical, and wearing only a T-shirt, stumbled down a canyon road and told a party of picnickers that she had been raped.

The climax to the manhunt set in motion by the revolting crime was as astonishing as it was sudden.

Guldbrandsen called the newspaper, said he had a good news story and asked that a reporter be sent to a designated bar and ask for "Johnny."

Neumeier was assigned. When Guldbrandsen told him, over a beer, that "I'm the guy they're looking for in Sonoma," Neumeier at first refused to believe it. But Guldbrandsen produced identification, and Flint's car keys and wallet.

Neumeier took him to the newspaper office. There Guldbrandsen gave him and Hodgkinson his long statement. The three went out for a leisurely dinner. Then Hodgkinson called Sheriff's Detective Charles Cavanaugh.

Guldbrandsen said he had gone with his friend, Flint, on Friday evening to spend the weekend at Jensen's place; that everything

Congressmen Chilly, Want To Go Home

Air Conditioning Heats Speed Adjournment

Washington, July 6. (P)—Congressional leaders hoping that Congress will adjourn before long found an unexpected ally today in the form of an artificial cold wave.

As far as the House of Representatives is concerned, it might be a "freeze out" before long.

The air conditioning system is working too well.

Members in the rear of the caucus room which is serving as a house chamber during capitol repairs felt the "cold wave" more than others. The huge ducts through which the cooled air is blown into the chamber enter from the back of the room and the temperature there is considerably lower than up front.

Apparently there is no relief in sight. Experts explained that if the air conditioning is adjusted to make it less frigid in the rear of the chamber it will be too warm up front.

Rep. Ellsworth (R-Ore.) summed up his reactions: "Let's go home."

Ellsworth coupled the Washington heat (except in the rear of the House quarters) along with cramped space as a good reason to go home.

"I don't think there is a single constructive thing Congress can do by staying in session," he told a reporter. "We should get the appropriation bills out of the way and get out."

Holiday Death Toll Of 712 Disgraceful, Says Safety Council

The nation's accidental death toll over the Fourth of July holiday—a record breaking 712—was "shameful and disgraceful," says the National Safety Council.

The 712 killed in violent accidents over the three-day period was the highest ever reported for a Fourth of July holiday and near the record for any holiday period.

The final count in the state-by-state survey showed 315 traffic fatalities, 25 more than the 290 estimated by the council; 256 drownings, and 140 killings from miscellaneous causes. The tabulation covered a period from 6 p. m. last Friday to midnight Monday.

The nation's heaviest accidental death toll for a holiday period was 761 for four days in Christmas week of 1936. Of the total, 355 were killed in traffic mishaps. The previous high for the Independence Day holiday was 628 in 1941.

DROWNED AT DOCK

Mackinac City, (P)—Charles F. Neumann, 21, of Cheboygan, drowned here Tuesday when he fell from the state ferry dock while helping the ferry City of Ferosky tie up. He was a Lutheran seminary student.

New U.S. Minister To Luxembourg Will Be Wealthy Widow

Fund Raiser For Truman Confirmed By Senate

Washington, July 6. (P)—Mrs. Perle Mesta, who has a talent for giving parties—and raising political campaign funds—will be America's next minister to Luxembourg.

The Senate confirmed President Truman's appointment of the wealthy widow yesterday despite the objections of Senator Donnell (R-Mo.). She is an old friend of the Trumans.

Donnell, who said he knew of Mrs. Mesta's fame as a Washington hostess only by hearsay, protested that the appointment was a step backward in the attempt to keep career men in diplomatic spots.

He was drowned out by other senators. After more than an hour's spirited debate, they shouted a thundering voice vote of confirmation. Donnell's "no" was the only one heard.

Donnell, in his remarks prior to the vote, wanted to know what actual investigations had been made of her qualifications, education, training and experience. What schools had she attended, he asked Senator Green (D-RI) in what subjects had she specialized?

Green, who will be 82 in October, replied that "I did not know Mrs. Mesta at that time." (She is in her 60s.)

Donnell then questioned Senator McGrath (D-RI), also one of her sponsors and chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Contributions "Magnificent" Was it true, he asked, that Mrs. Mesta helped President Truman "to purge Roger C. Slaughter" by generous contributions? Slaughter was a Missouri Democratic congressman defeated after President Truman opposed his nomination.

McGrath replied that he did not know, that he was not national chairman then.

But he assured Donnell that Mrs. Mesta's contributions "have been extraordinary and magnificent."

Donnell wanted the amounts "in dollars and cents."

McGrath said he did not keep track of such things but added with a smile that they were "in excess of $1,000."

Finally, Sen. Connally (D-Tex.) joined in the chorus.

"Luxembourg is what is called a grand duchy," Connally said. Its ruler is a grand duchess, a female—woman, if you please. Would it be so much out of harmony with the concept of women in government if we should send a minister to the grand duchy who was also a woman?"

Connally said apparently Donnell "wants a man with striped britches and a silk hat, perhaps."

Soft Coal Contract Talks Pushed Back

Miners Start Working Three Days A Week

Pittsburgh, July 6. (P)—John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers and the nation's Northern and Western soft coal operators have pushed back resumption of their contract talks from July 12 to July 19.

Announcement of the delay was made yesterday by Ezra Van Horn, spokesman for the operators, as the miners ended their annual 10-day holiday and began the first three-day work week ordered by Lewis.

Van Horn would not discuss the postponement, other than to say the delay was agreed upon to give both the UMW and the operators an opportunity to "canvass mutual problems which are expected to come up."

and the Southern operators will get underway again July 12 while hard coal contract talks start at Philadelphia tomorrow.

The return to work of the soft coal diggers yesterday marked the first time in recent UMW history that the miners worked without a contract. The bituminous agreement ended last Thursday, the same day Lewis announced his dues-payers east of the Mississippi would work only three days a week until further notice.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday were designated by Lewis as the three work days for this week, while starting next week the pits will be manned Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Michigan and Texas Lead Fatality List Of Holiday Mishaps

(By The Associated Press)

Final reports on a accidental deaths over the holiday show today that Michigan tied with Texas for the largest number of weekend fatalities.

Michigan had 49 and Texas had 49. The total for the nation was a record 712 for the four-day period. Tabulations ran from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Monday.

Michigan, strangely enough, had only eight traffic deaths. This was far below pre-holiday predictions of 20 to 25 fatalities. Drowning accounted for the largest number of lives lost in the state, taking a toll of 26.

Atlantic Pact To Be Shield Against Greedy Communism

ESCANABA'S QUEEN—Miss Phyllis Villemur, attractive blonde daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Villemur, 305 South 13th street, Monday was selected as Escanaba's Fourth of July queen and also its official representative in the Upper Peninsula State Fair queen contest here next month. She was sponsored by the Home Supply Co. and was chosen by a committee of three out-of-town judges from among a field of 16 contestants. The bathing beauty contest was a feature of this city's Fourth of July program sponsored by the City and Junior Chamber of Commerce.

No Break Sighted In Midwest Heat

(By The Associated Press)

No immediate break appeared today in the summer season's longest heat wave over an area from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic coast.

Some showers fell in scattered sections of the hot belt but in most places they afforded only temporary relief.

There were heat deaths and prostration cases reported from all sections of the torrid zone.

Most of the Midwest was weary from a week of hot, sticky weather. The Eastern states also sizzled in the searing heat. And in the Northeastern area there was no sign of rain to break the long drought.

The new heat wave only added to further damage farm crops already badly wilted by seven weeks of rainless weather. Crop losses in the region have been estimated at more than $50,000,000.

The U. S. weather bureau said the only comfortable spots over the two-thirds of the country in straight day.

Ohio counted four deaths from the heat and uncounted prostrations. Toledo's 99.3 Reading was the year's highest and a record for July 5. At Springfield and Youngstown the top was 103. The heat brought an eruption in U. S. Route 30 south of Marion, O. The macadam and asphalt pavement bulged cross-wise and split open.

Love Fleecer Faced By Another Victim

Sam Snatched Her $4100, Chicago Widow Reports

Chicago, July 6. (P)—It was the same old story to police yesterday when another widow pointed an accusing finger at Sigmund (Sam) Engel, the old love swindler.

Engel, who claims he has fleeced women out of more than $1,000,000 in the last 50 years, was picked out of a police showup by Mrs. Helma Spencer, 65 year old Chicago widow, as the man she married in 1925.

But, Mrs. Spencer said, he was posing as John Irving, a tailor, when he married her after a brief courtship. Five weeks later at his request, Mrs. Spencer said, she gave her husband $4,100 which he said he needed to start a stock brokerage business. Three days later he disappeared.

Mrs. Spencer said she later received a letter from her husband who told her he had lost the money in speculation and was ashamed to return. She divorced Irving in 1928, Mrs. Spencer said, after she failed to hear from him.

The 73 year old internationally known confidence man vigorously denied he had ever seen Mrs. Spencer and had taken any money from her.

The aging Romeo, who is in jail awaiting trial on a confidence game charge in a love swindle of another Chicago widow, appeared outraged that he had been accused of being a tailor.

"I've never done a day's work with my hands in my life," Engel protested.

Williams Opposes More Powers For Michigan Governor

East Lansing, July 6. (P)—Governor Williams and two political scientists outvoted a legislator on the question of increasing a governor's powers at the opening of the Michigan State college governmental workshop yesterday.

Senator Colin L. Smith (R-Big Rapids) found himself in the minority on a panel composed of Williams, Dr. Alan P. Grimes of Michigan State college and Dr. Joseph E. Kallenbach of the University of Michigan.

The panel majority agreed that the governor's present two-year term should be extended to four years and that he should have more power to appoint boards and commissions. It also agreed there was necessity for over-all reorganization of state agencies.

Williams said he had no personal ambition in advocating a four-year term for the governor "because I will never have an opportunity to run for it. The two-year term has killed any long-range planning on problems of the state. This is particularly true in relation to the school system, which has suffered badly from lack of long-range planning and thinking."

Dr. Kallenbach said the governor's lack of appointive power "is a pretty serious violation of the executive authority. It is not proper to hold a governor responsible for these operations when he has almost no power of appointment and dismissal."

Smith replied "I don't see why anyone should fear what he does in office the first two years in relation to his political career, unless he wants to make a career of politics. And I don't think the American people want that. One of the things that is endangering our democracy is the ever-increasing apathy of the American people. I would not deprive them of the right to vote in or out their elected representatives every two years."

Britain Gets Facts On Economic Plight

Emergency Plan Devised To Conserve Dollars

London, July 6. (P)—Sir Stafford Cripps today banned further commitments for purchases in the dollar area except where "urgent national interest" is proved.

He reported the sterling area's reserves are down to $1,624,000,000 after dropping radically in the last six months—but he said Britain has "not the slightest intention of 'evaluating the pound'."

Existing contracts for dollar-area purchases will stay in force, Cripps told the House of Commons, but the treasury will permit further spending only "where a clear case of urgent national interest is established."

Cripps, chancellor of the Exchequer and Britain's economic chief, declared Britain must reduce the price of her products to encourage exports. He said this can be done through efficiency of production and "we have no desire to see wages cut."

The "standstill" in dollar buying which Cripps ordered will continue at least until September. By then ERP funds for the coming year will be distributed, and a new scheme of payments among European nations will be in effect.

"We shall get out a new important program in the light of circumstances which then exist," Cripps said.

Traverse City Host To Cherry Festival; 250,000 Expected

Traverse City, Mich., July 6. (P)—Cherry is king here today, and Ann Marie Maurer is his queen-elect.

This picturesque city—heart of Michigan's cherryland—is preparing for an influx of 250,000 visitors to the National Cherry Festival Thursday and Friday.

The celebration will get underway Thursday morning with the crowning of Miss Maurer, 19, a petite, brown-eyed brunette, and daughter of a cherry grower.

A grand floral parade Friday afternoon will be one of the highlights of the festival. It will be led off by 13-year-old Marie Jo De Witt of Grand Rapids, winner of more than 200 medals for horsemanship.

BOTTLE ONLY CLUE

Petoskey, Mich., July 6. (P)—Emmet county Sheriff John Kilborn yesterday sent a gingerale bottle to Lansing to be tested for finger prints in his search for a thief who robbed a bar of approximately $1,000 in cash. The bottle was the only clue.

DELTA PIONEER DIES — Jacob A. Groos, above, resident of Delta county for 75 years, was taken by death Tuesday night. He had served as Wells township clerk since 1902. (Story on page 3)

Tokyo Rose Won't Get Death Sentence

Government Not Asking Top Treason Penalty

By KATHERINE PINKHAM
San Francisco, July 6. (P)—The government today opens its fight to convict Iva Toguri (Tokyo Rose) D'Aquino of wartime treason—but will not demand the death penalty.

Speedy selection of an all-white jury of six men and six women yesterday cleared the way for opening statements, and probably some preliminary testimony, today.

The statement that the government will not ask death came from prosecutor Tom DeWolfe in reply to a reporter's question. The minimum penalty upon conviction would be five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

The defendant, born in Los Angeles 33 years ago on July 4, is charged with eight acts of treason. The government charged that, as Tokyo Rose, she hoped to demoralize and discourage allied military men with her broadcasts from radio Tokyo.

With her in court were her husband, Felipe D'Aquino, an employee of a Japanese news agency; her father, Jun Toguri, Chicago grocer; her sister, June Hori, and her husband, Hiroshi Hori, and his brother, Mas Hori, all of Los Angeles.

He will spend Friday conferring with his staff at Mackinac Island and tentatively has scheduled a meeting Saturday at the island with the Inter-Peninsula Communications Commission. Sunday Williams will be in Detroit Monday afternoon for the convention of the American Veterinary Medical Association and will return to Lansing thereafter.

Reporter's Romance With President's Daughter on Rocks

Phoenix, Ariz., July 6. (P)—After 14 years of marriage, a romance that started between a president's daughter and a newspaper reporter appeared to have ended today.

John Boettiger, 49, the reporter, was suing his wife, Anna, 43, daughter of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, for divorce in Maricopa county superior court.

The couple first met in 1932 on a presidential campaign trip. Boettiger, who later became the publisher of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer and the Arizona Times of Phoenix, at the time was a reporter for the Chicago Tribune.

They were married in 1935, after Anna had divorced her first husband, Curtis Dail, a New York broker. She obtained the divorce in Reno in 1934.

Vandenberg Brands Reds Sole Menace To Peace In World

United States Seen As Final Invasion Target

By DON WHITEHEAD
Washington, July 6. (P)—Senator Vandenberg of Michigan today asked the Senate to ratify the North Atlantic pact as a shield for free men against "embattled, greedy Communism."

He opened the second day of debate on the 12-nation alliance with the double-barreled statement that (1) Communism is the sole threat to world peace and (2) its final target is the United States.

The treaty will be a warning to would-be conquerors, Vandenberg said in his prepared-in-advance text, that 300,000,000 people will resist aggression.

Debate Shortened As Republican leader in foreign affairs, he added the weight of his prestige to that of Senator Connally (D-Tex.) who led off in the debate yesterday.

As Vandenberg spoke, Senate leaders saw a good chance to win final approval of the treaty in less than a week of debate. They were encouraged by a general lack of opposition to the pact and its stated purpose of heading off any attack on the western, non-Communist world. A two-thirds vote of approval by the Senate is needed to bind the U. S. to the treaty.

Vandenberg called the treaty "the best available implement to discourage armed aggression and thus to stop another war before it starts."

And then he turned to Communism. He said the world's "precious values" are in jeopardy in today's "tormented world."

Vandenberg declared that "open conspiracies" are aimed ultimately at the United States. "We cannot run away from it," he told the Senate. "There it is, pact or no pact. * * * We are the final target, though other independent peoples are in nearer jeopardy."

The treaty is designed to minimize the threat of this jeopardy, Vandenberg continued.

Vandenberg agreed with Connally that a vote for the treaty

Wage and Pension Dickers Resumed By Auto Workers

Detroit, July 6. (P)—Wage—and pension (?)—talks for 181,000 auto workers got into motion again today.

Sidetracked during the Independence day weekend, the Ford negotiations with the CIO United Auto Workers resumed according to schedule.

Chrysler Corp. prepared to meet formally with the union for the first time in the wage reopening of their two-year contract.

The status of the UAW's demand for $100 monthly pensions was still in question.

In addition to a wage increase, the union asks the pensions for 106,000 Ford workers and 75,000 Chrysler employees.

Ford has opposed the idea. Chrysler, in pre-negotiation statements, refused to talk about it.

COOKIES SPILLED

Grand Rapids, July 6. (P)—Sixteen hundred cartons of cookies were spilled along the highway today when an outbound Veltman Cookie Co. truck overturned near here. A brief rain damaged $1,000 worth of cookies before the cartons could be gathered up. The truck driver, Wilbur J. Westhouse, escaped injury.

Hiring Hall System Outlawed On Lakes

Maritime Union Tradition Declared Illegal

New York, July 6. (P)—The operation of hiring halls for job-hunting seamen—a long-time, jealously-guarded tradition of the CIO National Maritime Union—has been declared illegal at Great Lakes ports.

The U. S. Court of Appeals yesterday upheld a finding of the National Labor Relations Board that the halls discriminated against non-union seamen in violation of the Taft-Hartley law.

Under union hiring hall procedure, job hunters must register with the union. They are then assigned to ship jobs by rotation.

The court did not rule on whether all hiring halls are illegal under the Taft-Hartley law. However, the NLRB was expected to seek to apply the ruling to hiring halls at all ports, for both Longshoremen and seamen.

The union, which has held out adamantly in contract negotiation battles of the last decade to retain the prerogative of operating the halls, said it will carry the issue to the U. S. supreme court. It maintains that destroying the halls would destroy the union.

Employers have charged the hiring hall is equivalent to a closed shop, which is banned under the Taft-Hartley act. In a closed shop, only union members may obtain jobs.

L. Whitehead of Sault Ste. Marie is low bidder, $24,400.30; and other bidders are Bridges of Escanaba, $25,169.79; and Miller $28,707.20.

On July 19 in Escanaba the state highway department will open bids for the construction of 7,782 miles of grading and drainage structure on US-41 relocation from Alberta to L'Anse in Baraga county. Negotiations on right-of-way and procedure delayed this project an unusually long time, the state reported.

State highway projects recently started in the U. P. include three miles of bituminous concrete resurfacing on US-2 in the city of St. Ignace, with C. G. Bridges of Escanaba contractor on the $43,806 job; and 4,179 miles of pavement on US-41 relocation from Alberta south in Baraga county. Bridges is also contractor on that project, whose cost is $230,802.

Rich Ore Deposits Found Recently in Dominican Islands

By Science Service
New York—Rich deposits of iron ore found recently in the Dominican Republic give promise of a new industry for the island and a supply of steel sufficient to meet growing industrial and construction needs. Coal suitable for smelter use is reported to be available close to the iron ore.

The present estimate of ore in the deposit is 43,000,000 tons. It is of 67 percent iron content. This would not go far in the United States but it is adequate to meet the needs of the Republic (the size of New Hampshire and Vermont combined), for many years. It would perhaps supply the needs of Haiti also, the nation that shares with the Dominican Republic the Maine-sized island between Cuba and Puerto Rico.

The presence of this iron deposit was revealed here by the Dominican Information Center. It states that a United States steel company is exploring the reserves. However, Dominican government opinion, it declares, appears to lean heavily toward the establishment of a local smelter in cooperation with private interests.

A tiny electric rotary transformer, known as a dynamotor, sealed in an ordinary tin can along with sea-level air, solves the problem of obtaining efficient operation when airborne at extremely high altitudes.

for the Bay de Noc Lumber company, Nahma, told Emil he saw what he thought was a fawn followed at doubletime by a doe while driving along US-2 near Juneau's station.

"But when I got a little closer, I could tell that was no fawn," Hebert said.

Uh, ough! It was Juneau's mongrel dog running to safety with his ears flat against his head and his tail between his legs. And he wasn't safe until he dived under one of the buildings at the gas station, and the doe couldn't make it.

Howard 11, and Robert, 10, sons of Hebert, and some tourists in the vicinity also testified to the strange sight of a doe doubletime after a dog down the highway.

Juneau said his canine evidently had been annoying the doe's fawn.

No doubt about it, the doe was plenty mad. After the dog ducked under the station building, the little deer stayed around for several minutes before lighting out for the woods again.

Girards Win Trick Birlinging; Running Is Block Champion

Gladstone, July 7—Billy Girard, sr., and his son, Adolph, successfully defended their trick and fancy birling championship in the Gladstone roleo, and Jim Running, Eau Claire, Wis., world's champion, won the block turning title.

Running, who successfully defended his world championship in the senior division, added the block turning title to his collection with a sensational 58 turns of the 36-inch block in two minutes.

Frank Peloquin and Ray Cousineau, both of Ft. Francis, Ont., were second and Running and Heideman, of Milwaukee, were third in the trick and fancy birling contest.

The Girards went through their routine of chair balancing, roller skating and jumping through a hoop while birling.

More Than 20 Musical Units Coming To U. P. Legion Meeting Here

Tickets Being Sold Now For Music Festival At Escanaba Athletic Field

Headed by the internationally known Jackson, Mich., Zouaves—the fellows who march through intricate maneuvers at the rate of 300 steps a minute—by the Racine, Wis., Boy Scouts who made such a hit at the Marquette Centennial and by Escanaba's own musical marching units, at least 21 organizations will perform at the annual Upper Peninsula American Legion convention here July 15, 16 and 17.

They will go into their act in the big parade here Saturday afternoon, July 16 and at the gigantic music festival Saturday night under the lights at the Escanaba high school athletic field. And, as usual, they will stage many impromptu performances in downtown Escanaba.

Tickets for the music festival, in which all the visiting organizations, will participate, are available now at the Igloo, Hob Nob, Gust Asp's, West End Drug store, Brevort's, Rose Park store, Household Electric and will be made available at other places this week.

Top Performance

The music festival was one of the most interesting and best shows of the Legion convention in Ishpeming last year, and visitors are anticipating that this year's show will be even bigger and better.

The music festival will feature an impressive flag raising ceremony conducted by the Ishpeming post of the American Legion, followed by a memorial service in which the Escanaba barber shop chorus under the direction of Sam Ham will sing. The Rev. James G. Ward, pastor of St. Stephen's Episcopal church, will give the memorial address.

Organizations coming here are the Jackson, Michigan American Legion Zouaves, the Racine, Wisconsin Boy Scout Drum and Bugle Corps, the U P Championship Sault Ste. Marie Legion Drum Corps, the Ironwood, Michigan Male Chorus and Drum Corps, the Menominee City Band, the Neegaunee City Band, The Gwinnett Band, the Newberry Band, the Iron Mountain Knights of Pythias Band, the Marquette Drum Corps and Clown Band, the 5th Army Band from Chicago, Illinois, the Ishpeming Drum Corps, the Neegaunee Drum Corps, the Hancock Drum Corps, the L'Anse Drum Corps and the Rock Drum Corps, and Sons of Legion Band, Appleton, Wisconsin. In addition to the Escanaba City Band, the Escanaba High school band and the Cleveland American Legion Post 619's Drum Corps will participate.

Oldest BSA Unit

The Racine, Wisconsin, Boy Scout Drum and Bugle Corps is the oldest musical organization in the Boy Scouts of America, having been organized in 1927. The 50 member corps is under the direction of William L. Peterson, who has been closely associated with the unit since it was organized. Each year the boys collectively put in 22,000 hours of practice and rehearsal. The 1949 repertoire ranges all the way from arrangements of popular and semi-classical numbers to the theme of Tchaikovsky's Fifth Symphony.

The Corps has performed at the National Jamboree held in Washington, D. C. in 1937 and in the Interlochen Bowl at the National Music Camp at Interlochen, Michigan in 1947. During the last three years when the Chicagoland Music Festival held open Drum Corps competition, the Racine Scouts won first place for three consecutive years. The Corps travels between three and five thousand miles yearly on concert

JACOB GROOS, AGE 75, DIES Served As Wells Twp. Clerk Since 1902

Joseph A. Groos, 75, last surviving senior member of a prominent Delta county pioneer family, died at 10:55 Tuesday night at St. Francis hospital where he had been a patient since March 21.

Mr. Groos was born in Trombley, February 19, 1874, one of the three sons of the late Mr. and Mrs. Peter Groos, early settlers of the community which still bears the family name. When he was an infant the family moved to Flat Rock, now the location of Pioneer Trail Park, and in 1876 to Escanaba, residing in a house on what is now the Escanaba City Hall location. His father bought the farm and built the family home at Groos in 1880.

After completing his education in the Flat Rock school and at St. Joseph's school in Escanaba, he entered Green Bay Business college. He was appointed postmaster at Groos January 1, 1900, and continued to hold that office for 13 years. The post office which was destroyed by fire at that time was never rebuilt.

Clerk Since 1902

In 1902 he was appointed Wells township clerk to fill the vacancy caused by the death of his father who had held the office since 1878. In 1903 he was elected to the office and held it until the time of his death, his re-elections over a period of close to half a century, without opposition, establishing a record in the state.

For many years he was actively engaged in the operation of the Groos Dairy Farms, keeping a large herd of registered Holstein cattle. Before taking up farming he operated the quarry at Groos, was in the building and crushed stone business and built many of the roads in Wells township and streets in Escanaba. The quarry was sold in 1906 to John Bichler, sr., and in later years was operated by the Bichler brothers.

In 1900 Mr. Groos married Anna Corcoran, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Corcoran, who died a number of years ago. He was a life-long member of St. Joseph's church and recently transferred to St. Anthony's, Wells. He was affiliated with the Holy Name society.

His keen interest in the welfare of his home community which he maintained to his final illness was his main concern during his life and his hobby was raising beautiful flowers which made his gardens one of the show places of this part of the county.

He is survived by six children, Alfred, of Groos, Joseph of Flat Rock, John, Clinton and Victor, of Groos, and Mrs. Byron Ford, the former Olive Groos, of Groos, and eleven grandchildren. His two brothers, Dr. John Groos and Peter Groos, also preceded him in death.

The body was taken to the

HALFWAY POINT

The end of June and the beginning of July mark the halfway point in 1949. And as is customary at this time, we present our mid-year statement of condition. A bank statement may be regarded as a barometer of business... general business conditions in a community are reflected in the figures on the statement. The picture we get at this halfway point is satisfactory. Prospects generally for the second half of the year are good — for business and for agriculture. Prices have eased up a bit — and may ease up more — but that's normal and a good thing. People have been making money and people have been banking money — deposits have held up well. Our loans and discounts totaling over $1,960,000 — show that we are co-operating with borrowers in making funds available through sound loans for local progress. And now, let's get on with the second half — we're ready with all the services and facilities to meet your banking requirements.

July 4 Accident Record Is Shameful

THE people of the United States can scan the accident record for the July 4 weekend and be ashamed at what they read. The death toll of 628 was the highest in the nation's history. Actually the number of accidental deaths reported in the late tabulations probably will be swelled considerably when all of the figures are in from the remote areas of the country.

The president of the National Safety Council, Ned H. Dearborn, declared in a public statement issued yesterday, "It is disgraceful that a humanitarian and civilized nation must sacrifice so many lives to celebrate a holiday dedicated to a free, secure and happy people."

As anticipated, traffic accidents led the death toll, with drownings second in the tabulations. If there is any cause for cheer in the figures, it is only in the fact that there were no fatalities reported from fireworks. A number of persons were injured in fireworks mishaps, however.

Despite a concentrated campaign throughout the country in advance of the July 4 weekend to keep the accident rate at the lowest possible figure, we have emerged with the most ghastly toll of tragedies in the nation's history. It is truly a shameful record.

Marquette Has 100th Anniversary

NUMEROUS Escanaba and Delta county residents attended the Marquette centennial celebration over the July 4 weekend. Everyone agreed that the centennial and homecoming event was a masterful undertaking, well managed, excellently planned and perfectly executed.

The people of Marquette cooperated with the centennial committee completely. The bearded gentry and the array of early 19th century costumes provided a homespun touch of authenticity to the celebration, as well as considerable publicity to the undertaking itself.

In conducting its centennial observance, Marquette has established a standard of excellence that will provide a challenge to other communities of the Upper Peninsula when the time comes for them to plan a centennial undertaking.

The entire Upper Peninsula was happy to salute Marquette upon the occasion of its 100th birthday anniversary.

No Major Labor Law This Session

DEFEATED in separate attempts to scuttle the Taft-Hartley labor act, first in the house of representatives and later in the U. S. senate, labor bosses are sharpening their political hatchets for a fight to "remove the obstructionists."

Particular emphasis will be placed upon efforts to defeat for reelection those senators who supported the Taft labor proposals last week and whose terms expire next year. Labor organizations already are preparing "box scores" for use in the 1950 election.

Labor leaders' bitterness over failure to scuttle the Taft-Hartley act is intensified by the early-session optimism that prevailed among union bosses. They erroneously interpreted the results of the presidential election last fall as a mandate from the people for repeal of the Taft-Hartley act. It has since become apparent that the T-H act was not the prime issue in the campaign. Although the president campaigned for repeal of the act, and was re-elected, the voters also returned to office a majority of congressmen who had voted for the labor act.

It appears now that there will be no revision at all of the Taft-Hartley law at this session. Improvement of the act has been forestalled because of labor's insistence upon removal of the injunction power contained in the law. This authority is essential for protection of the public interest in strikes involving national security, such as the industry-wide strikes in the soft coal mines.

Labor leaders need not vent their venom upon those who supported the main provisions of the T-H act. Rather they should direct their ire towards John L. Lewis, whose consistent disregard for the public interest proved the need for protection against irresponsible unionism.

Alabama Gives Klan A Kick

GOV. JAMES E. FOLSOM and his Alabama legislature deserve to be commended for their speedy, forthright response to the ugly challenge of white-robed terror in their state.

Newly placed in Alabama's statute books is a law that bans the wearing of masks, hoods or robes. The penalty for violation is a $500 fine or one year in jail.

Alabama thus becomes the first state in the South to strike a real blow at the resurging Ku Klux Klan, which most southern authorities blame for the rising tide of violence in the region.

There is some talk that Alabama now may go a step farther and revoke the Klan's state charter, thus making it an outlaw organization. All decent American citizens must hope this goal is also achieved.

More than that, they must wish that a whole procession of states will follow Alabama's lead. Nothing would be more gratifying than to see the South rid itself of these night-riding hoodlums without interference from outside.

It seems incredible that we should have to be decrying such primitive violence in a 1949 America. In fact, were we not so well aware of the tragic results of this practice, we probably would be tempted to laugh heartily at the absurdly silly business of grown men running around in flapping white garments.

But, stripped of their bedsheets, these latter-day terrorists can be seen for what they are: Nazi-style bully boys with an even bigger streak of cowardice, if that is possible.

Alabama has had the fundamental good sense to unfrock these spineless bullies permanently.

There is evidence, too, that it is earnestly determined to find among them those who were responsible for the recent floggings and other outrages in the Birmingham area. A county grand jury already has returned a dozen or more indictments.

These various state and local moves to stamp out hooded violence have not kept congress from launching its own inquiry into the outbreaks. A house judiciary subcommittee is looking into them.

No harm can come from a further airing of the facts so that all Americans can understand the menace for what it is. But congress ought to do nothing to discourage the excellent beginning Alabama has made toward crushing this particular lawlessness.

It should allow state authorities a chance to follow through. And permit a little time for us to see whether Alabama's behavior may not prove contagious to its neighbors.

Other Editorial Comments

COULD BE (Green Bay Press-Gazette)

Gerhart Eisler says he is going to sue the United States government for damages to cover the $23,000 bail forfeited and that he is going to sue the British government because he was taken off a vessel there and put to defending himself.

It is quite impossible to say what would occur in the British court if such a suit were brought there, but Eisler will be well advised if he tries out his experiment first in the American courts, because here he has at least a chance in the federal supreme court to have his propositions, however they resemble gibberish, treated with all solemnity and an apologetic action by some members of our highest court who seem to constantly feel as though they were a reincarnation of Columbus, forever charting new seas. They only forget one important factor, that Columbus didn't run on the rocks.

The Soviets put up $23,000 in bail. The bond, of course, stated that Eisler would be on hand if his prayer for relief on appeal was denied.

The ordinary reader may conclude that Eisler has shown a lot of audacity in threatening to sue to recover his bail money. But all he is really doing is to cleave to the party line which says that bonds, treaties, promises, anything that is written or otherwise assured, may and should be readily broken when it involves the government or a person that is foolish enough to believe that a Commie will stick to his word.

As soon as those lawyers defending the Communist chiefs at New York finish the trial there they can undertake the task of collecting Eisler's bail money and use up a year or two baiting and sniping at any judge who may have enough backbone to say that the whole country hasn't gone crazy and therefore their plea must be denied.

QUIZ FOR CONGRESSMEN (The Indianapolis News)

Many members of the house who voted for the latest veterans' pension bill certainly owe their constituents this explanation: How do they reconcile their oft repeated aversion for a welfare state with a vote for a measure that would take the United States a long way on that path? How do some of the members reconcile their cries for economy with their endorsement of a bill that would cost $57,000,000?

A professor finds that the average radio listener has aged three years. One broadcast can sometimes accomplish that.

EXPLODING ANOTHER MYTH ABOUT ENGLISH GRAMMAR

Most grammar books tell you that the possessive case should not be used in referring to animals or inanimate objects. It is wrong, they say, to say, "the store's management." We should say "the management of the store." It is naughty to speak of the "horse's feet." One must say, "the feet of the horse," and so on.

Many teachers drum this into the heads of their English classes because, "Dr. Shrdlu's book warns against it." Teacher tells the class, "Do not say 'I petted Towser's head.' Say, 'I petted the head of Towser.'"

Such a rule is nonsense. It has never been observed since English became a language. Yet the textbooks continue to spread the superstition. Here is a direct quotation from the College Handbook of Composition, by Woolley and Scott: it is typical of practically all books on grammar: "Avoid the use of the possessive case for inanimate objects; use an of-phrase."

Well, let's see: "Where the bee sucks, there suck I; in a cowslip's bell I lie."—"The Tempest." "A best's prosperity lies in the ear of him that

Olds-Kerr Fight Is Shaping Up

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington. — An extremely interesting contest is shaping up that is bound to have political repercussions far into the future.

The two leading figures could hardly have been more expertly cast for the roles they are playing.

On the one side is Leiland Olds, whose reappointment to be a member of the federal power commission precipitated the dispute. Powerful and influential men in the Democratic party had warned President Truman that if he sent Olds' name to the senate for confirmation for a third term as a power commissioner, he would have a fight on his hands.

Olds is one of the comparatively few Roosevelt New Dealers to survive in the Truman fair deal. His concern with the regulation and public ownership of power goes back to his connection with the New York state power authority in 1931. He has the ardent support of former New Dealers and most of the Fair Dealers who tend to regard him as a symbol of the president's real intentions.

NATURAL GAS ISSUE

Probably Olds would never have encountered his present difficulty if he had not insisted that the federal power commission, under a recent supreme court ruling, had both the right and the duty to regulate the production as well as the distribution of natural gas. That brought him into direct conflict with Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma.

Kerr has the expansive, genial manner of the self-made millionaire and the shrewd politician, both of which he is. He is equally at home in a Baptist pulpit or in the rough-and-tumble debate of Oklahoma politics.

The Kerr-McGee company, which the senator controls, is a large producer of natural gas. Kerr also has close connections with the Phillips Petroleum Co., probably the largest single producer of gas.

This, as Kerr knows very well, makes his position a vulnerable one and especially in view of his ambition, which does not stop short of the presidency. The most effective line that Kerr takes both publicly and privately in his efforts to line up senators against Olds goes as follows:

"The Southwest has a great natural resource with its gas. It can sell that gas and raise the standards of everybody. But now comes the federal government saying that the sale of this resource must be regulated."

"That gas goes to produce the automobiles and the tractors and the other things that we in the Southwest must buy. The production and the sale of the things we buy are not regulated by the federal government. So why should we, the hewers of wood and the drawers of water, be discriminated against?"

Olds has what seems to be an effective answer to this argument. He points out, and it seems to be generally agreed to by both sides, that if Kerr's bill to take gas production out of regulation is passed, then the price of gas will go up.

This would mean that industries seeking to locate in the Southwest because of the advantage of a low-cost, readily accessible fuel might be stopped from seeking a Southwest location where there is already a freight-rate disadvantage. Consequently, the Southwest would continue to be a supplier of raw materials to the industrial Northeast—hewers of wood and drawers of water.

UTILITIES WITH KERR

Lined up with Kerr, as might be expected, are the utilities. With Olds defeated, they see a chance to get a power commission majority with a far more lenient states' rights point of view.

Some senators seem to have been given the impression that President Truman is indifferent to the fate of Olds, having made a gesture of sending up his name. But members of the senate interstate commerce committee are discovering that that is not true.

The Democratic members are being canvassed personally by Clark Clifford, counsel to the president. They say that seldom has such zeal been shown in behalf of a presidential nominee.

After waiting three months, Chairman Edwin H. Johnson has at last called committee hearings on the nomination of John Carson to the federal trade commission. When that is out of the way, action on Olds is expected, with the likelihood that his name will be reported favorably.

But that will be merely the prelude to a battle on the senate floor. Kerr is not easily stopped once he sets out on a course. And, meanwhile, Olds' term as a commissioner has expired and he is out of office, which his enemies may count at least a temporary gain.

hears it."—Love's Labour's Lost. "Thou wear a lion's hide."—King John.

"As a jewel of gold in a swine's snout."—Proverbs. "At their wit's end."—Psalm. "The sun's rim dips."—Coleridge. "A primrose by a river's brim."—Wordsworth.

These possessives are entirely correct: A week's delay; a day's work; a hair's breadth; two weeks' vacation; for pity's sake; journey's end; the book's contents; the boat's length; at sword's points; out of harm's way; the sun's rays; the court's decree; the flower's perfume; the river's bank; the water's edge; the ship's sails; the dawn's early light; the twilight's last gleaming.

Here's the whole thing in a nutshell: Either "the river's bank" or "the bank of the river" is correct; whether to say one or the other is a matter of euphony. That is to say, in some sentences "the river's bank" may sound awkward and abrupt; in other sentences "the bank of the river" may sound ponderous. Your ear is the best judge of which construction to use. In other words, forget the grammatical "rule" that you won't say "the river's bank" etc. It really is no rule at all. It's a silly superstition.

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

THE HOLIDAY—Back in the office after the holiday weekend the office crew began comparing experiences. Come to find out, most of the staff was out of town for the weekend, and the few who were in Escanaba had the most amazing stories. Which leads to the conclusion that you can have as much excitement in your home town on a holiday as you can anywhere.

Dunathan

Quite a bit of the excitement was caused by the Big Storm, both in Escanaba and in other U. P. cities. The Big Storm blew down trees, flooded basements, sent rivers rampaging over their banks, and endangered many lake trout trollers on Lake Superior.

This only proves that man may do his best to put on programs guaranteed to cause amazement—but nature always tops it off with something better. The lightning, for instance, is more impressive than any display of pyrotechnics, while the wind and rain and thunder combine to create more excitement than a Fourth of July parade.

ESCAPE—The man from Marquette who returned there for the centennial celebration reported that the storm sent lake trout trolling boats scurrying for shore and dampened the festivities considerably. Incidentally, Marquette men and women will breathe a sigh of relief at the centennial's end and the shaving off of those beards and whiskers. They were hot and they tickled. Wives were particularly grateful.

Yet the Marquette celebration was not without its note of tragedy. One woman was killed in an auto accident. So far as the reports go at this writing all of the lake trout fishermen escaped safely into the Marquette harbor.

FULL ENJOYMENT—One of the office staff had been to the Straits of Mackinac over the weekend. He reported the storm struck there with less fury and did not interrupt the operation of the state ferries. That was fortunate, because the traffic there was extremely heavy and many motorists said they had to wait three to five hours to get across the Straits.

These long delays on a holiday trip left the motorists fagged, especially so when they had to sit in their slow-moving cars in a line that extended six miles long south of Mackinaw City.

But there was refreshment at hand for them. Pop peddlers went up and down the lines of cars, offering bottles of warm pop for sale at 25 cents a bottle. They sold a lot of it at that exorbitant price. The motorists could not get out of their cars to stretch or get a drink because if they had they would have lost their place in line and delayed their crossing even longer. Happy holiday!

PRIMITIVE—Another of the staff spent a quiet and satisfactory weekend at a cottage on the shore. It was one of those low-cost weekends that often bring the most enjoyment.

Speaking of costs, one reporter said he had heard at the Straits that owners of overnight cabins at Mackinac City were charging and being paid up to $9 a night.

But the staff member who spent the weekend at his cottage said

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Escanaba—Barclay Acheson, associated editor of the Reader's Digest, is planning to visit Escanaba in August and will address the Rotary club while here.

Chicago—Funeral services for U. J. (Sport) Herrmann, prominent sportsman and theatre operator, were held in the Scottish Rite Cathedral Wednesday. Herrmann died in Sturgeon Bay, Wis., Monday following an automobile accident.

Fayette—News reel pictures of the automobile crashes off Burnt Bluff were taken by cameramen from Chicago by Movietone News and Paramount News.

Twenty Years Ago

Escanaba—Ted Kessler was re-elected vice-commander of the Upper Peninsula Legion Association at the annual convention in Iron Mountain. Leslie D. Goddard of L'Anse, formerly of Escanaba, was also elected a vice-commander.

Escanaba—Police of Gladstone and Escanaba are continuing their drive against liquor establishments. Two residences were raided over the weekend and the sheriff arrested one man at Rapid River for possession of a still.

Manistique—Judge and Mrs. Edmund Ashford of 539 Manistique avenue observed their golden wedding anniversary on Wednesday.

Gladstone—Atty. G. Raymond Empson, governor of Tenth District Rotary, and other Gladstone Rotarians will leave for the annual Upper Peninsula Rotary outing at Grand Island.

there was only one incident to mar the weekend—the lights went out during the storm. At the cottage were some young guests and they were fascinated by the way the cottage-owner brought out and lighted a kerosene lamp. They considered it the most primitive contraption they had ever seen.

FLOOD STAGE—The downpour of rain, accompanied by high winds, created considerable excitement in this area Sunday afternoon.

Those who were out of the worst storm area came back to find many surprises in store for them. Before arriving in Escanaba, they were forewarned by the water rampaging down the rivers like a spring freshet and the pools collected in tow-lying fields.

In Escanaba a few trees were uprooted by the wind and the water backed up and ran into basements through windows. The high north wind blew the rain through the walls of some houses, causing considerable damage.

IN THE BASEMENT—One member of the office staff reported that his basement had filled waist-deep with water. He knew it was waist-deep because his son told him it was. His son knew how deep it was because he had come home, gone down the basement stairs and stepped in up to his waist.

The basement is still a mess, said our reporter. The family wash and the coal from the bin got all mixed up and are now difficult to distinguish from each other. The washing machine floated and then capsized in the flood.

But perhaps the best storm story to be related came from one of the staff who refuses to vouch for its truth. During the storm in Escanaba a bolt of lightning struck close to a house where a man sat reading his paper. The lightning burned out the radio, jumped to a metal bird cage stand and tore all the feathers out of the canary, and left the man unharmed.

A Wonderful Park

Dear Editor:

Having taken advantage of the invitation of the Junior Chamber to attend their July Fourth celebration in Ludington Park, I feel that the citizens of Escanaba should give that organization a big vote of thanks. Their entertainment was fine and every attraction was well announced and produced. But with all of the entertainment their efforts would not have attained such success had it not been for Ludington Park. We of Escanaba do not appreciate what a wonderful park we have nor the facilities placed at our disposal.

The city, through the Park Board, has provided tables, benches, drinking fountains, stoves, plenty of playground area and the whole park is kept clean. Situated as it is on the south shore of Escanaba where there is usually a cool breeze off Green bay it is hard to understand why more people do not take advantage of it. The location is only about five minutes drive from any part of the city and the facilities may be enjoyed by the whole family. There is just no reason why there should not be as big a crowd there every Sunday afternoon as there was on the Fourth. Why not show the Park Board that we are grateful for what they have provided by making more use of Ludington Park. Grateful.

Our Pioneer Stock

Dear Editor:

We speak still of the Covered-Wagon folk of our predecessors, the Mountain Men. Can we not profitably review historical novels about them? One writer describes one trek: "12 long days they persisted against . . . the blizzard wind. They made 12 miles! . . . Then, within 40 years, 10,000 wagons, in a single season rolled over the . . . tracks."

The world was amazed at U. S. A's World War II production. Then overseas folk said: "Natural Wealth!" Is this not error? Actually Brazil, Hindustan, both have more natural wealth than has U.S.A. In deforested Korea, for example, folks shiver over weed stalk fires. They feared for centuries to mine coal. They superstitiously believed Korea rested on a giant dragon. The monster would start earthquakes if any one pricked his skin with a mine shaft!

The annual income per capita of other nations compared with U.S.A. is an index to living standards. It also, to some extent, throws a searchlight upon the standing, physically and mentally, of the populations in various areas. It is no surprise that a recent publication lists U. S. annual per capita income in a recent study at $555.00. Compare this with the income of say Guatemala listed at approximately $28.

Is it not about time we grasp one of U.S.A's best assets is its Pioneer stock? 10 generations of selection in frontier life gave us a race of rare inventiveness. Unfortunately today, in competition with those from low living standard areas, these folk race-suicide.

Sincerely,
J. F. Woodard,
Sacramento, Calif.

This administration is not offering a plan for socialized medicine. It does not want socialized medicine. It is, in fact, offering National Health Insurance as the only safe and certain way to avoid socialized medicine.—J. Donald Kingsley, acting federal security administrator.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—Senator Fulbright's probe of lobbying inside the Reconstruction Finance Corporation has unearthed a long list of RFC officials who have resigned to take jobs with companies securing RFC loans.

The Arkansas senator began his probe after this column exposed the fact that two important RFC officials had joined the Waltham Watch company of Massachusetts and the Plywood Plastic Corp. of Hampton, S. C., after recommending that these companies receive loans.

To remedy this, Senator Fulbright has introduced legislation whereby no RFC official can join a company receiving an RFC loan until two years after the loan is granted.

Meanwhile Fulbright's banking and currency subcommittee has dug up the following RFC officials who went to work for the same companies for which they recommended loans.

E. Merl Young, RFC examiner, recommended a $10,000,000 loan to Lustron corporation of Cleveland, then went to work for the company at more than double his RFC salary.

A. H. Graham, assistant manager of the Richmond RFC office, recommended several loans exceeding $2,000,000 for Baltimore Contractors, Inc., then was hired by the same company at a salary increase of $5,000.

James C. Windham, an RFC administrative assistant, became treasurer of the F. L. Jacobs Co. of Detroit after it had received over $3,000,000 in government loans.

Joseph M. Ryan, chief of small business loans in Helena, Mont., went to work for the Custom Tire, Inc., of Billings, Mont., at double his RFC salary after recommending a $50,000 loan.

MORE RFC LOANS

Others who left RFC to work for companies receiving RFC loans are: L. C. Andrews, former manager of the San Antonio RFC office, hired by the transport company of Texas; A. Ben Shalit, RFC engineer, hired by Usibelli Coal Mines, Inc., of Suntrana, Alaska; Louis B. Duquette, district loan agent, hired by the Hyde corporation of Fort Worth, Tex.; Howard Gage, examiner, hired by the Dougherty Lumber company of Cleveland; Carl J. Grosswendt, RFC examiner, hired by the Federal Telephone and Radio Corp. of Clifton, N. J.

In addition, Arthur F. Hackney, RFC examiner, was hired by the U. S. Sugar Corp. of Clewiston, Fla.; Benjamin McNeil, assistant chief of the RFC's administrative division, hired by South Dade Farms of Homestead, Fla.; Chester Neilson, RFC plant examiner, hired by Statz Manufacturing company of Chicago; Otis Radford, examiner, hired by the Eddy Shipbuilding Co. of Keithsburg, Ill.; Leslie Widner, examiner, hired by the Oran company of Columbus, Ohio.

Three RFC officials also went to work for banks in which RFC had invested. They are: China R. Clarke, manager of the Minneapolis RFC office, who was hired by the National Bank of St. Paul; Edward B. Concannon, examiner, hired by the First National Bank of Lindenhurst, N. Y.; and John L. Kroeger, examiner, hired by the Dairyland State Bank of Minneapolis.

Note—Most RFC employees are conscientious public servants and approve of Fulbright's measure. Actually there has been less embezzlement in RFC than in most private banks, though they handle only a fraction as much money.

TRUMAN AND TAFT-HARTLEY

Chances of Taft-Hartley repeal have gone a-glimmering this session, but President Truman is confident the next session will tell a different story.

Those fellows who fought the repeal bill are going to find out that the people still want it when they get back home," Truman told Harvey Brown, outgoing president of the Machinists' Union, and his successor, Al Hayes.

"We've lost a battle, but we're going to win the war," predicted Brown. "Labor has some unfinished business between now and the next session with the members of congress who have gone back on their campaign promises to the common people of this country."

"Well, I haven't given up hope," said Truman. "Eventually we are going to write into law not only repeal of the Taft-Hartley law, but the rest of the liberal program the people indorsed in the last election."

REAL ESTATE "FRONT"

The real estate lobby has learned a trick from the Communists. It has now discovered the advantages of "front" organizations. Behind the fancy disguises, however, it's still the same real estate lobby.

For instances, the Georgia Taxpayers' League has been flooding the state with post cards, opposing government housing. Inside fact is that these cards were actually written by Ed Hiles, hired executive of the Georgia Savings and Loan League, an affiliate of the national organization run by Morton Bodfish, king of the real estate lobbyists, which has been indicted for failing to register under the lobbying act.

Hiles also failed to register when he came to Washington recently to lobby against public housing. Pinned down by this column, he admitted writing the post cards put out by the Georgia Taxpayers' League.

The league, he confessed, has "no character, no by-laws, no nothing." The real estate groups simply thought it would be better to pose as the Georgia Taxpayers' League than give their own names. Hiles admitted. He identified B. A. Martin, legislative chairman of the

Open Competition In Livestock Planned For U. P. State Fair

REVEAL PLANS AT EXPOSITION

Big Event Will Be Held Here Aug. 16-21

Detailed plans for the 1949 Upper Peninsula State Fair to be held in Escanaba Aug. 16-21 inclusive, were announced today by Harold P. Lindsay, secretary manager.

Lindsay reported that for the first time in the history of the Upper Peninsula fair, open competition has been authorized in all livestock departments except dairy cattle and poultry. Numerous livestock breeders of the Lower Peninsula have indicated plans to exhibit quality beef cattle, swine, and sheep. Open competition in dairy cattle and poultry cannot be permitted this year because of a lack of barn space.

The Chicago Tribune prize winners in the $25,000 "Better Rooms for Better Living" contest will be displayed in the art department at the U. P. State Fair this year. It has been announced, and a number of exhibits from the Mercantile Exposition donated to the people of Michigan from the people of France will also be displayed. The exhibit will be in charge of the Michigan Historical Society in conjunction with the Delta County Historical Society.

The Barnes-Carruthers famed State Fair revue will be presented as the grandstand feature the first four nights of the fair. Thursday afternoon, Governor's Day, big car automobile races will be featured. The 4-H parade will also be presented on Thursday afternoon, August 18.

Saturday will be WLS Farmer's Day at the fair and the world famed WLS barn dance troupe will be featured afternoon and evening. Sunday, closing day, will be thrill day and the Jimmie Lynch Death Dodgers, with new thrills and spine-tingling chills, will present their 1949 show, afternoon and evening.

For the first time since the war, fireworks will be presented each evening at the conclusion of the grandstand show.

A new 4-H club kitchen and dining hall will be erected at the fairgrounds this summer in preparation for the 1949 Upper Peninsula State Fair. This building, 108 by 32, will supplement the 4-H dormitory constructed at the fairgrounds last year, and will make possible the accommodation of many more 4-H club students than was previously possible.

Secretary-Manager Lindsay reported that a terrific demand for exhibit and concession space for the 1949 fair has developed, indicative of the increasing popularity of the Upper Peninsula exposition.

Munising — Miss Janet Lezotte, brunette daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lezotte, Bay View Addition, was selected "Miss Alger County of 1949" in a queen contest which was a feature of Munising's annual 4th of July celebration Monday.

Janet will be a senior in Mather high school this fall.

Fourteen girls from all parts of Alger county competed for the title. They appeared in an "elimination round" at the bay shore park Monday afternoon, and the

Monday evening, following a band concert, the selection of the 1949 queen was made. A fireworks display there, duffed by a heavy fog, ended the program. A crowd estimated at 3,000 witnessed the crowning of Miss Lezotte as queen.

Junior Sorority Will Be Organized In Escanaba

A new junior group of young women will be formally added to Escanaba social and cultural organizations Monday, July 11 when Nu Phi Mu Sorority is instituted and officers installed.

The group is a junior affiliate of Beta Sigma Phi, international non-academic social and cultural sorority, of which Delta Rho Chapter is active in Escanaba.

Miss Eileen Koehler, international representative for the new group, is in Escanaba to accept eligible young girls for membership. Ages of members are post-high school age to age 21. Upon becoming 21 years of age, the girls are eligible for transfer to Beta Sigma Phi.

Beta Sigma Phi is one of the largest sororities in the world, with a membership of 75,000. It has chapters in each of the 48 States, Washington, D. C., each Province of Canada, and in Alaska, Hawaii, England, Scotland, Tokyo, Japan and the Marianas Islands. Nu Phi Mu, the junior group, has an international membership of 10,000, including chapters in every State, Washington, D. C., and four Provinces of Canada. Miss Koehler states. Mrs. Lynn Terry, formerly vice president of Beta Sigma Phi, is president of Nu Phi Mu.

Sorority Program

Nu Phi Mu is described by Miss Koehler as "a character-building" sorority. Included in its programs are: hobbies, social activities, service work, cultural development and development of charm and poise. Nor are such important details as instruction in the use of cosmetics, hair styling, choice of clothing, physical exercise and development of the voice overlooked. Awards of Merit are given annually by the international office in Kansas City, Missouri, to chapters having outstanding performances records.

Meetings of Nu Phi Mu will be held twice a month, at which cultural topics including art, music, drama and literature, will be discussed, and there will be occasional guest speakers. The social side of the program includes outings, teas, formal and informal dinners and dances.

St. Joseph's church, bouquets of snapdragons and gladioli arranged with its lighted altar candles, was the setting of the attractive summer wedding ceremony this morning at which Pamela Jean DeMars, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. DeMars, 608 North 19th street, became the bride of William Henry Bisson. The bridegroom is a son of the Henry N. Bissons of 603 North 20th street.

The vows were spoken before Rev. Clifford Nadeau who offered the nuptial high mass at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Patricia Olson, soloist, sang the "Ave Maria" and "On This Day." Miss Bernadette Cossette was organist-director of St. Ann's choir.

Bride in Marquisette

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore white marquisette, styled with a square neckline, fitted bodice and bouffant skirt which ended in a train trimmed with chantilly lace. The long sleeves of the gown tapered to points of lace over the wrists. Her double fingertip veil and blusher of bridal illusion, edged with similar lace, were caught to a lace bonnet. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and snapdragons, centered with red roses with satin streamers tied with double knot bows.

Miss Mary Lemmer, the maid of honor, and Miss Stella Polmanteer, who was bridesmaid, wore identical gowns of organdy with eyelet embroidery trim, the maid of honor's of aqua and the bridesmaid's of yellow. The gowns were designed with snug bodices, square neckline and bouffant skirts. Their bonnets and mitts were of the same material and their colonial bouquets were of pink carnations and snapdragons. Sharon Lee Bryson and Carol Bisson were flower girls and Mary Bisson carried the rings. The junior bridesmaids were in white organdy frocks with bonnets and mitts of the organdy and they carried miniature bouquets of snapdragons and candytuft.

Jack Bisson was best man and Robert McCarthy, groomsmen. Seating the guests were William Roddy and Frank Stropich. Mrs. DeMars selected a two piece aqua dress with pink accessories for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Bisson wore a summer print with black accessories. Corsages of rubrum lilies were worn by both mothers.

Wedding Breakfast
A wedding breakfast for 25 guests was served at the Log Cabin. Garden flowers and the tiered wedding cake centered the table. The couple after a honeymoon in the Copper Country will live at 317 South 15th street. Both are St. Joseph high school graduates and are employed by Montgomery Ward and Co.

Guests at the wedding from out-of-town included Miss Stella Polmanteer of Madison, Wis., James Boucher of Farmdale, Mich., and Frank Boucher and Norma Motznick of Milwaukee.

Singer Trains With Bottled Italian Air

By HAL BOYLE

New York (AP) — Manhattan snapshots:

Everybody lives by his own brand of logic, and one kind won't necessarily suit another.

There is a waitress in a beany here who should be in her heyday — if life really began at 40.

She lives entirely on the tips from patrons, and collects her wages from the boss only once every four years. The last time she asked him for her money he forked over $600.

When a patron inquired why she let her wages pile up for four years, the mousy little plate slinger said:

"Well, when you go out for an evening—you want to be able to hold up your own end."

The lady wasn't joking either.

My favorite New Yorker is George ("The Real") McCoy, the best armored man I know against misfortune.

Hard luck can't even dent—let alone break—the hack man's Falstaff. George, now in his middle years, was a pioneer sidewalk radio interviewer. He served as an Army sergeant overseas, and he and his microphone gave belly laughs to scores of thousands of homesick troops on leave in Algiers and Naples.

Today this chunky, red-faced Irishman probably knows as many people around town as Jim Farley. The radio spots have been fewer in recent years, and George beats a living out of Broadway by driving a cab.

"Every day is a new day to me," he says. "Most people want to live and let live. I want to live and let lib."

And in many a mid-town bistro he's more widely quoted than Shakespeare, Walter Lippmann—or Milton Berle. George dislikes stuffed shirts more than anything in the world and enjoys puncturing them.

"A stuffed shirt," he says, "is just a public bandage on a private intolerance—or an ulcer that needs curing."

Recently George started driving his hack on Sundays because he figured he could save $30.

"I really take in only $10," he says. "But if I didn't work, I'd spend $10—so that makes $20. On the other hand, if I didn't work, I'd have to borrow the $10 I'd spend—so, altogether, I'm really saving $30."

Rascal Has Racket

It takes so little to make some folks happy:

There is a middle-aged lady who lives in Greenwich Village and yearns to be an opera singer. She is taking lessons from a merry old rascal whose only training as a voice teacher is the years he spent tuning pianos.

Recently a friend who visited her in the small practice room she rents found her weeping with joy.

"The maestro at last told me I had hit one perfect note," sighed the dear lady.

Then she began strumming her own accompaniment on the piano, and started singing. Every few moments she would pause, uncork a small bottle, sniff from it vigorously, then quickly recork it again.

"What are you doing?" asked the amazed friend.

"Oh, the maestro told me all the best voices were trained in Italy," she said. "Since I can't afford to go there, he is importing Italian air for me in these bottles. It helps me immensely."

"Why do you keep putting the cork back in?"

"The maestro warned I must use the air sparingly," said the lady complacently. "It's expensive to import. I pay him $1.50 a week for each bottle."

Mills Circus Chaplain Nears 86th Birthday

A circus that never shows on Sunday is a rarity these days, and one carrying its own minister is a unique object any day.

Mills Bros. three ring circus, which the Kiwanis club will bring to Escanaba on Thursday, July 21, is proud of the fact it is America's largest motorized circus and the fastest growing sawdust organization of any type.

It is equally proud of the fact it can live up to both of the aforementioned claims. Brothers Jack, Jake and Harry Mills, now piloting their three ring circus on its tenth tour, always have felt performers, both human and animal, merit a day of rest on the Sabbath. They also felt that, like armies, hospitals and prisons, the circus should have a chaplain. The mills chaplain is the well known Rev. Doc Waddell, now nearing his 86th birthday and in his 78th year in show business. His life story appears in the July issue of Coronet magazine and two Life magazine representatives made a pictorial essay of the famed sawdust minister when they spent two days with him recently.

Waddell, only circus minister in the world, is licensed to preach by the Methodist church and the International Evangelists Association. He performs circus weddings, holds funeral services, and conducts special Sunday school each day for sons and daughters of show performers, as well as speaking to civic and charitable groups, and preaching in churches, in communities where the circus plays.

The Kiwanis club brings Mills Bros. three ring circus, menagerie and horse show to the North 23rd St. circus grounds for two performances on Thursday, July 21 and will use its share of proceeds for the Kiwanis Youth Activities Fund.

Members of the local group have advance tickets on sale now and receive heaviest percentages for their benefit fund from tickets sold before circus day. For convenience of patrons, they also have established an advance ticket depot at the Gust Asp news store where both reserved and general admission seats are now available.

The circus offers a two-hour, three ring program, featuring several imported European tank troupes plus top American circus favorites, trained animals, dancing horses, aerialists, acrobats and a cavalcade of clowns, all performing in the Mills Bros. tented city one day only, afternoon and night, on July 21.

Ore Shipping Declines; Off 105,499 Tons Here

The anticipated boom in ore shipping at Escanaba and other Upper Great Lakes iron ports is definitely off and may become worse before the season ends, shipping figures for June reveal.

Ore loadings at Escanaba revealed the trend in May, when the tonnage dropped 12,531 below the same period last year. In June the decline was greater, totaling 92,968 below tonnage for the same month last year and making a total decrease of 105,499 tons below last year to July 1.

What started out to be a banner year in the race to supply ore for the nation's steel industry has slowed to a walk and indicates the passing of the peak postwar demand for raw materials.

For the two Chicago & North Western ore docks in Escanaba only six boats are scheduled after today, revealing the slack movement. The steamer Macourey of the Midland Steamship company lines is due today for loading. Last year in July at the height of the season boats were scheduled weeks in advance.

Ore tonnage loaded at the C&NW docks in June this year totaled 596,283 compared with 689,251 last June. The shipments from Escanaba by months so far each year are as follows:

	1948	1949
March	None	51,556
April	457,334	492,738
May	707,579	608,088
June	689,251	596,283

Totals 1,854,164 1,748,665

The decline in iron ore shipments here reflects the general decline in demand for raw materials in the nation's steel industry. With the market off in steel-utilizing lines the mills are curtailing production with a consequent reduction in the demand for ore.

There is the possibility that 1948's largest peacetime figure of 4,760,529 tons of ore shipped from Escanaba since 1929 may stand for several years.

King Midas Laying Mash

WHY I can remember when the henhouse was a nice, peaceful quiet place!... but not any more... not since the Boss put those pullets on King Midas Laying Mash!... Now the nests look like the production line... and the pushing and shoving!... All because of those vitamins and minerals in King Midas Laying Mash. The Boss thinks it's swell... and that's just fine, but I sure am tired of this strain.

King Midas Laying Mash not only stimulates egg production, over the results of less scientific feeding, but helps continue high production. It replaces elements which the hen loses when the egg is manufactured, and supplies rare minerals, the assimilation of which is aided by certain of the vitamins which King Midas Laying Mash also contains. ### Lillian J. Johnson And Melvin Strom United In Marriage

White peonies and orange blossoms effectively arranged with lighted candelabra decorated the altar of the First Lutheran church for the marriage on Thursday evening June 30 of Miss Lillian Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Warner ohmsen, 521 North 10th street, and Melvin Strom, son of Mrs. Emil Strom, 600 Minneapolis avenue. Rev. Clifford Peterson, pastor, performed the 8 o'clock ceremony.

"Salute D'Amour," "I Love Thee" and "At Dawning," an organ prelude was played by Mrs. Edward Olson, Jr., as the guests were assembling. Bert Nisonen, the soloist, sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because," and as the couple knelt in prayer at the close of the Edwin Strom, brother of the groom was best man and ushering were Carl Johnson, Jr., the bride's brother, Arne Strom and Leonard Sabourin.

The bride's gown of ivory satin was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves which came to points over the wrist. The hem of the floor length gown was edged in English type net which came up to form a bustle back. Her veil of illusion was attached to an open crown bonnet of English net and ivory satin. She carried an adornment bouquet of white roses. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Uses Plane And Taxi To Get To Reunion Of GHS '09 Classmates

To some persons a class reunion doesn't mean much, but to Victor McKerie, Lewistown, Mont., the opportunity to see members of the class with whom he was graduated from Gladstone high school 40 years ago was so appealing that he made an airplane flight of over 400 miles and then took a taxi for the remaining 130 miles.

Mr. McKerie, a member of the 1909 graduating class at GHS, when notified of plans for a reunion of the class over the July Fourth weekend, found several things requiring his presence conflicted and so notified the committee making arrangements that he would be unable to attend.

However, he later discovered that while he could not attend the Sunday portion of the reunion, that by plane and taxi he could reach here in time for the banquet so he and Mrs. McKerie flew to Green Bay and then took a taxi from there to Escanaba arriving in time for the banquet.

The class reunion started off with a picnic supper held on Sunday at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Clark at Schaaw's lake, and on Monday evening a banquet was served in the Marine room of the Ludington Hotel. Ten of the original members and their husbands or wives attended. The class at the time of graduation numbered twenty-four. Five of the members have passed away and nine were unable to be present.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Filkins, Chicago, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Victor McKerie, Lewistown, Mont., Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Barrett, Flint, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. Phil Johnson, Muskegon, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kamrath, Escanaba; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gormsen, Aurora, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Phil Clark, Wells, Mich., Mrs. Frank Mallen, Milwaukee, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. William Nelson and Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Kimmond, Gladstone.

Miss Ethel Empson, a guest, was presented with a corsage. This was the first class she taught when she accepted teaching duties in Gladstone, and at the time they were in the eighth grade. Her personal interest in the activities and doings of the group as they progressed through high school have always been appreciated by them.

JESSE JAMES MAY BE ALIVE

Missourian, 102, Looks Like Old Outlaw

By ROBERT C. RUARK

Stanton, Mo.—The old man who says he is Jesse James lies all day in a cabin under tall trees, close to the Meramec caverns in which history says he once hid out from the law.

The old man, who is called "Uncle Jesse" by the people who look after him, is completely bed-ridden by a broken hip, but at the age of 102 his mind is still whip-sharp, his memory remarkable, and his arguments convincing. He is nearly blind and a touch deaf, but is handsome still and full of scrap.

The old man's name was J. Frank Dalton before he rediscovered himself. Even at his great age, his resemblance to the authenticated photos of the outlaw is amazing. There are the same cavernous eyes, the same sharply cut nostrils, the same sweep to his hair, the same scaggy growth of beard, the same set to the ears. Jesse James was supposed to have lost a finger tip in a gun accident.

Ruark

Age Is Right

The resemblance to the young James is more striking than the resemblance of the photos of the dead Jesse to the live Jesse. The live Jesse had the lean look, of an ascetic, and he was very sparsely whiskered. The dead Jesse's photo showed a heavily dark-bearded man of a definitely burly look. On coincidental resemblance, the old boy could easily be the man he claims he is. His age is exactly right.

Much more than mere looks have led a sober, conservative newspaperman named Frank Hall almost to dedicate his life to substantiating the story he broke in Lawton, Okla., in 1948. Hall has become obsessed with Jesse James; he believes firmly that the old man is the supposedly dead outlaw, and offers a skein of remarkable evidence.

That the man who was killed in St. Joe by the Ford boys may not have been James is easily believable. There was written expression of doubt at the time of the killing. The body was hurriedly identified by a few intimates, swiftly buried in Jesse's mother's yard, and disinterred a full 20 years later for burial at Kearney, Mo. It was past all recognition then.

Ex-City Editor Hall believes there were some peculiar political doings at the time, and that a deliberate hoax was worked to allow James to escape. It is odd that the Ford boys, the killers, gave themselves up; it was odd that they should have been pardoned immediately by Gov. Tom Crittenden; it was odd that Frank James should have turned in his guns a short time later, to receive full pardon.

What is odder still that 50-some years after the governor's son, Houston Crittenden, should have chosen a man named J. Frank Dalton to write an eye witness account of the doings of the James boys for his father's biography, the Crittenden memoirs, published in 1936.

Houston Crittenden is now dead, and cannot answer why he arbitrarily chose Dalton to deal with the chapters on outlawry but the fact is he did. Why?

Visited Governor
The old man says frankly that he visited the governor a short time before the historic slaying of America's closest approximation to Robin Hood. "I was wearing a swallowtail coat to hide my guns," he says. "I paid the governor a call in his own capital."

The old gentleman has been identified as James by an ancient Negro, himself over 100, but this is small guarantee. It is impossible to summon up the bandit's son, Jesse Jr., for he is in a mental institution, and had precious little dealings with his father, anyhow, since James was an outlaw for some 19 years of his early manhood.

I don't know whether the old gent is in reality who he claims to be. But his story is remarkably tight. Dozens of his statements have been checked accurately by Hall. The tale he tells cannot, in my estimation, be a whole-cloth invention, any more than the bullet holes in his old carcass were invented.

As Hall says, if he isn't Jesse James, who is he? There is no question that he was parcel of the rowdy life of that time. At this point I am 60 per cent sure he is the old outlaw, and in tomorrow's piece I will probably convince myself the other 40 per cent.

PAY FINES IN JUSTICE COURT

Four Plead Guilty To Assault And Battery

Four young men, employed on the hopper dredge Haines, now working on the Manistique harbor, were given maximum justice court fines following their pleas of guilty before Judge W. G. Stephens in justice court Monday afternoon. Each was fined $100, ordered to pay $10 each for doctor fees and $5 court costs each.

According to the complaint, the four, Richard Kamalowski, of Manistique; Hudson L. Vernon, Pontiac; William Andrews, Ithica; and Pat Collins, Cheboygan, called at the home of Alex LaLone, North Fourth street, about two o'clock Saturday morning. LaLone objected to having his home disturbed at that time of the morning and informed the four to that effect. The young men set upon him and he was badly beaten up.

City police placed the men under arrest and two of them were lodged in the city lockup and two in the county jail. Monday afternoon they signified their willingness to plead guilty as charged. The fines, court and special costs were paid.

Judge Stephens informed the young men that they were fortunate in being able to plead guilty in justice court as unwillingness on their part to cooperate with the authorities would more than likely have made them subject to trial in circuit court.

Attended Library Special Training Course At Chatham

Dorothy Shipman, city school librarian, returned Saturday from Chatham, where she attended the five day program staged there last week for the benefit of school and city librarians of Upper Michigan.

It was an unusually strenuous course, Mrs. Shipman reports. The day's activities began at 7:30 in the morning and continued on throughout the day and evening until nine o'clock at night. Classes were divided into groups—selection being made according to training and experience of the member. Fifteen instructors and lecturers conducted the programs with a wide and comprehensive list of subjects on the schedule, including such subjects as "Book Valuation, Criteria, Methods, Material, Censorship, Book Clubs etc."

Heading the course was Mrs. Dorothy Hagerman, chairman, Grand Rapids; Mrs. George Hunter, St. Johns; Mrs. Helen Warner, Battle Creek; and Mrs. Leota D. Fyan, Lansing.

CITY BRIEFS

Dom DiMag Has His Day! His Homer And Triple Shade Joe's Double, Single As Bosox Nip Yanks

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Labor Reporter)

The youngest of the great DiMaggio clan, Dom, although enjoying his best year in baseball has been shoved into the background by the electrifying comeback of big brother Joe.

Dom DiMaggio

Nearly all fans know that Joe has slammed five home runs since his return to active competition a week ago. But few are aware that Dom has made more hits than any other American leaguer and is second only to Detroit's George Kell in batting. And there is no better fielding center fielder in the majors.

Dom cracked a home run for the Boston Red Sox Sunday, but it went practically unnoticed because it so happened that his brother Joe also slammed a round tripper.

It was the other way around last night. It was Joe who faded into the background despite his double, single and two walks in four times at bat for the New York Yankees.

Dom walloped a home run and triple and scored two runs to lead the Red Sox to a 4-2 triumph over the Yankees. This helped the Red Sox snap an eight-game losing streak. In addition, Dom made the fielding play of the game, coming up with a brilliant running one-handed catch of leadoff batter Phil Rizzuto's bid for a triple in the eighth. Since two walks followed, Dom's catch definitely saved the game for Boston.

Dominick's two blows gave him 93 hits for the season and boosted his batting average to .332. Joe is batting .414 but has played in nine games compared to 68 for Dom.

While Dom was supplying the fireworks, Maurice (Mickey) McDermott, a 20-year-old southpaw, limited the Yankees to four hits to win his third game since joining the Red Sox several weeks ago.

It was Boston's first victory in their last six games with the league leaders, and cut the Yankees' margin over the idle, runner-up Philadelphia Athletics to four games.

The third place Cleveland Indians advanced to within six games of the Yankees, drubbing the Tigers in Detroit, 8-1.

The St. Louis Browns came up

Joe DiMaggio

with six runs in the seventh inning to defeat the Chicago White Sox, 9-5.

The second place St. Louis Cardinals out Brooklyn's National league lead to one game by winning in 10 innings, 2-1, from Chicago while the Philadelphia Phils whipped the Dodgers, 7-2.

Ken Heintzelman, veteran Philly southpaw, allowed seven hits in racking up his 10th victory and his fourth straight over the Dodgers.

All games were played at night except the Cubs-Cards game. All other teams enjoyed an off day.

Faltering Tiges Bow Again To Cleveland

Detroit, July 6 (P)—The faltering Detroit Tigers headed out for a four-game road trip today after stay by dropping an 8-1 decision to Cleveland at Briggs stadium last night.

The Indians' lopsided win left the Tigers with a record of only one win in the six games of their home stand. That was an 11-inning 7-6 decision over the Chicago White Sox Saturday.

It was a disappointing stay for Red Rolfe's club, which dropped three straight to Cleveland to fall 9½ games behind the league leading New York Yankees.

Third place Cleveland, which came to town with only a half-game lead on Tigers, left town with a five-game winning streak and hopes of catching up with the pace-setting Yankees.

Last night's game was settled before the 46,716 fans had a chance to get comfortable in their seats.

The Indians wasted little time in clubbing Marv Grissom, the Tiger starting pitcher, who lost only 1 2/3 innings. He gave up four runs, six hits and a walk in that brief stay before Marlin Stuart rushed in to relieve him.

The Indians continued their 14-hit attack against Stuart and old Diz Trout, who took over in the sixth inning after Stuart was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the fifth.

Frank Papish, who had started only one other game for Cleveland this season, rolled along okay after the Indians handed him his early lead.

Papish allowed only six hits—including two doubles and a single by George Kell—and walked seven men in hanging up his first decision of the season.

BY JIM WARD

Jeanne Groos, who recently became a professional figure skater (Escanaba's fifth) after winning the Upper Michigan Queen of the North contest and completing her amateur study and work at Sault Ste. Marie, has been having much fun lately in San Francisco, where the Shipstad and Johnson Ice Follies troupe is summering.

In a recent issue of the San Francisco Chronicle, she is pictured with a group of Follies performers displaying their catches after a day's outing fishing in Monterey Bay. And in addition to the group shot, Escanaba's Jeanne is shown with the skipper of the ship and one of her new friends, Gerri Straub, with whom apparently she appears in the "Pas de Quatre" Fountain of Versailles number in the Follies new show. (They're rehearsing in San Francisco before making the circuit).

Sounds much like a gay time was had by all. Says Tod Powell, the skipper, who also wrote the byline story in the Chronicle: "All of these kids are remarkable. They not only do their stuff on skates in a marvelous performance... but they are just as apt at golf, bowling, swimming and other sports."

He neglected to mention fishing, but the picture proves that point. There is an ample supply of sea bass, halibut, ling cod, red rock cod, yellowtail cod, gopher cod, blue fish and kingfish.

Jeanne evidently caught her share, for Powell writes that "the only one on board who didn't catch a fish was our First Mate Minehan."

The idea of the trip originated during wartime when the Casa Del Rey hotel in Santa Cruz was a naval hospital, and the boat owners began taking convalescent wounded servicemen on weekly deep-sea or off-shore fishing trips. Then they began taking some of the Ice Follies' gals along to cheer the sailor boys, and the Ice Follies performers have been on the "must" list ever since.

Cuff notes: Newest entry in the eleventh district American Legion junior baseball tournament in Munising Friday and Saturday is Menominee... Munising, Manistique, Gladstone and Escanaba, 1948 winner, also are entered.

The winner will compete against the 12th district champion for the U. P. title during the Legion convention here next week... Matt Tunteri, Munising, says he expects more entries.

John Hruska, of Manistique, who won the U. P. heavyweight Golden Gloves championship after serving three years in the USAF in World War II, has enlisted as a private in the armored cavalry of the U. S. Navy... Hruska is the fellow who beat Perronville's Bloniarz in the finals... Menominee's Mickey McCormick is one of 35 being considered for the job of head football coach at Carroll college, Waukesha, Wis.

And Mick, who has been head football and basketball coach at Menominee high for four years, says he's definitely interested... He is married and the father of five daughters... Walter M. Mikulich, of Bessemer, has been named head football coach at Central high in West Allis, Wis. He formerly coached at Breckenridge, Minn.

San Francisco Cubs Play Gladstone Reds At Bay Shore Field

Gladstone, July 7 — The San Francisco Cubs, an aggregation of Negro baseball players who last season compiled the highly commendable record of 98 wins against 11 losses while taking on practically all comers, will square off against the Gladstone Redskins of the Upper Michigan Rainbow league at the Bay Shore diamond here at 6 tomorrow evening.

The Cubs boast many outstanding individual stars who know their way around the biggest baseball circuit, and it is apparent that not only are the San Franciscans capable of putting on a whole of a ball game, but they're sure to stage a show that will leave your mouth slightly agape.

They can do that!

Marion Cain, who, as you might expect, travels under the moniker of "Sugar" Cain, is pitcher and manager of the Cubs. He is a right-hander. Other mound aces carried by the Californians, or who carry the Californians as the case may be, are Charles "Specs" Roberts, Eligh Ward, both right-handers also, and Roy "Lefty" Baham, who flings them from the post side.

A round dozen Cubs are on the visiting squad who will face Gladstone's Reds. The latter, incidentally, have begun to hit their stride and figure to give the Cubs a very interesting evening.

Others on the team are Mansfield Williams, 3b; Sy Morton 2b; George Waldron, cf; Gentry Jackson, ss; Charles Richardson, 1b; Lavance Anthony, c; Ollie Waldon lf, and Loyal Neal, 2b. Baham and Ward double as outfielders and hurlers.

Editor Of Michigan Legion Paper Dies From Heart Attack

Detroit, July 6 (AP)—C. S. Clark, 51, editor of the Michigan Legionnaire, American Legion publication, died of a heart attack here late Tuesday.

A native of St. Johns and a veteran of the naval air force in both World Wars, he was public relations director for the Michigan branch of the Legion.

Clark, whose home was in Ann Arbor, was a former co-editor of the Clinton County Republican News, published in St. Johns. He also served as postmaster of St. Johns in the mid-1930's.

He had just finished putting the Michigan Legionnaire to bed at a printing plant here when he was stricken. The newspaper last year was honored as the best Legion publication in the state.

Surviving are his wife, Helen, and four children, Richard, Robert, Barbara and Kathryn; a sister, Mrs. Judith Danley of St. Johns; and a half-sister, Marilyn, also of St. Johns.

Burial will be in St. Johns Thursday afternoon.

USGA Frowns On Auction Pools As Pro Gambler Lure

New York, July 6 (AP)—The U. S. Golf Association warned today that auction pools at championship tournaments could open the way for professional gamblers to take over the sport.

The body sent one of its darkest official frowns in the direction of organized gambling and hinted it might crack down on amateur players who bet heavily on their skill.

The executive committee, the USGA said, has adopted a resolution stating: "This association does not approve organized gambling in connection with the playing of the game."

James W. Walker, chairman of the USGA amateur status and conduct committee, was quoted as saying:

"Organized auction pools at championships would almost certainly run into large figures, would lead to commercializing the game to a high degree, and might well be the means for professional gamblers to take over and influence players just as they have done in other sports."

Auction pools and sweepstakes long have been popular around tournaments and, while prohibited in USGA championships, are conducted in some sectional associations with the approval of officials.

The Calcutta-type pool is the most common of these, big money affairs where players are auctioned in clubhouse rallies and the pot carved up by those holding the names of the winners or leaders. Contestants generally don't participate.

Walker recognized that there are certain areas of gambling, the informal variety, outside the scope of the USGA. The body could act then, he said, only if the question of amateur status is involved.

On this point, he added: "Unfortunately, some golfers are suspected of making a business out of gambling on their golf skill. Much of their income is apparently dependent on their winnings and, in my opinion, such individuals violate the essence of the rules."

Suicide of Son, 17, Blamed On Music By Florida Father

Winter Haven, Fla., July 6 (AP)—A father said music was responsible for the death of his son, a moody, talented high school junior.

Seventeen-year-old William C. Rackley shot himself at his home here Monday night. He died yesterday.

The youth telephoned a girl friend just before firing the shot and she heard the explosion over the telephone as she pleaded with him not to shoot.

"Music affected him deeply," said the father, R. C. Rackley. "I know that was the cause of it all. He always was very sensitive and music meant everything to him."

Teachers considered the youth a promising pianist and composer. One of his compositions, "Gershwin's," played at a recent high school concert, was inspired by the music of George Gershwin, his favorite composer.

Hiss Perjury Case Jury Starts Work

New York, July 6 (AP)—A federal judge today refused to dismiss two perjury charges against Alger Hiss and ordered the case to go to the jury.

The jury of ten men and two women will begin deliberating the fate of the former state department official tomorrow afternoon.

Both sides rested at 10:42 a. m. (EST).

TEXAS BANS LYNCHING

Austin, Tex., July 6 (AP)—The Texas legislature has passed a bill making lynching punishable by prison or death.

The measure provides a penalty ranging from a five-year prison sentence to death.

How Americans Speak Is Mapped By Investigator

A 19-year job of finding out how Americans speak English between East Canada and Florida has been finished after almost 12,000 hours of interviews.

Completion of the material for this report on Eastern American speech was disclosed at Cornell University by energetic Dr. Raven Iorv McDavid, Jr., of Greenville, S. C.

McDavid, field investigator for the growing Linguistic Atlas of the United States and Canada, told of the findings before leaving Ithaca, N. Y., for Cleveland to work on the Great Lakes region.

VISITED ESCANABA

Dr. McDavid visited Escanaba last summer while making a study of dialects in the Upper Peninsula. Among local persons he interviewed were Councilman Sam R. Wickman of Escanaba and George Wiltie of Pine Ridge.

The probe has uncovered migration routes and European origins of the first American settlers, revealed changes going on in American speech, blocked off big cities' spheres of influence and unsuspected dialects.

Sometimes there were odd resemblances, such as between so-called Brooklynese "woim" for "worm" and the plantation speech of Georgia and the Deep South, where McDavid even found "foity" for "forty" and "chey" for "chair."

Unexpected differences include the grammar of even cultured people. Around New England they'll say "hadn't ought to" for "oughtn't," while cultured Southerners make altogether different slips like saying "aint," which a New Englander would smile at.

Nine workers in New England and McDavid and a predecessor to the West and South, did it all by finding out the words and pronunciation used for the most unbookish, homey things possible, least affected by schools, radios and newspapers.

They range from earthworms to cottage cheese, from calling a cow to stopping a horse and to 750 other items.

Your local words for such things will show how first settled your family's home community centuries ago.

For instance, McDavid said, he found "chay" used as a cattle call only in the area of Williamsburg, S. C. Investigation showed this is the call used at Down and at Antrim in Ireland, where it must have come from.

Only around Philadelphia, where paved sidewalks were introduced early from England, are they called by the British name "pavements"—an unconscious relic of their history.

In parts of Pennsylvania people say "smearcase" for cottage cheese, from the "schmierkaese" ("cheese spread") of forgotten German settlers. They also say "smearcase" in the Niagara peninsula of Canada, settled by colonial Pennsylvanians.

The "potkaas" of the Dutch settlers in the Hudson valley was translated into "pot cheese" when they learned English. Later comedians spread the word as they mocked some of them—loyalists who fled the American revolution—to southern New Brunswick, Canada.

But Western New Englanders, who got it directly from the original Dutch settlements, still call it "Dutch cheese," although they have long forgotten why.

In 813 communities of the Atlantic states, 1,666 native Americans were interviewed, 345 of them by McDavid. They ranged in age from 19 to 101, and from total illiterates to doctors of philosophy.

In each community at least one "old-fashioned folk-speaker" was sought and his speech was checked against a younger and more sophisticated native to trace changes.

The words and pronunciations must come naturally in conversation to make sure the person is not putting on airs unconsciously. This required an average of seven hours for an interview, until the deft investigator had covered every item in expert phonetic notes.

Besides dialect areas, there are "focal" or prestige areas like that of Richmond-Petersburg in Virginia, whose speech is looked up to and adopted in the surrounding country.

On the other hand there are "relie" areas off the beaten path, like Maryland east of Chesapeake bay, which retain older forms untouched by changes.

An example of both is the spread of pronunciations like "fah" for "far" from the focal area of Boston westward to the Connecticut river. But the lost "r" still can be heard in secluded, quaint old Marblehead 16 miles from Boston, and on Cape Ann and the offshore island of Martha's Vineyard.

The New England material, now published, already was assembled at the time McDavid became interested in the work—by being a subject of it himself.

Some workers on the project in 1937 took notes on McDavid's own South Carolina drawl. The results still are part of the record. He was so fascinated that he undertook to study phonetics and dialect geography.

The new areas included many much wilder than New England. They required travel without accommodations, sometimes on trails, into backwoods regions unused to travelers. McDavid was snowbound for two days last March with a farmer he interviewed in Canada.

Sometimes a hinterland community got suspicious of his strange questioning. He came near being run out of a Georgia community at gunpoint by local authorities. On the other hand he couldn't get answers in a South Carolina town when somebody whispered he was an FBI agent.

Much more usually he was invited to stay for dinner.

"A real interest in people and an ability to get along with them," he says, "is as necessary a part of the equipment as the ability to distinguish fine shades of pronunciation."

The huge pile of interview notes will be edited and assembled under Prof. Hans Kurath of the University of Michigan, director of the Linguistic Atlas. Kurath estimates it will take five years and perhaps $60,000.

Work is financed by grants from scientific foundations and by local universities for their areas. The Great Lakes area will be finished by next year, then the Gulf states.

Vandenberg Backs Atlantic Pact To Halt Communism

will not commit any senator to vote for the proposed $1,150,000,000 program to re-arm the pact nations.

The proposed arms plan faces a tougher opposition than the treaty. President Truman is expected to send the arms program to Congress after the pact is ratified.

Vandenberg said the real strength of the treaty lies in the "potential" military might of the 12 pact nations—not in the limited arms aid that is planned.

"In my view," he said, "the pact's invincible power for peace is the awesome fact that any aggressor upon the North Atlantic community knows in advance that from the very moment he launches his conquest he will forthwith face whatever cumulative opposition these united allies deem necessary to beat him to his knees and to restore peace and security."

There is no intention of turning western Europe "into an armed camp," Vandenberg said, nor can the pact "be deemed to contemplate new American manpower overseas."

Vandenberg made these points in his analysis of the treaty:

(1) The pact is within the framework of the United Nations and "is the greatest discouragement to war we have yet devised." "In my opinion," Vandenberg added, "it points the way to make the (United Nations) charter work despite the charter's crippling handicaps."

(2) The president's power as commander in chief of the armed forces "is neither increased nor diminished" by the treaty.

(3) The pact carries no obligation to defend European colonies outside the defense area.

(4) The way is open for other nations to join the alliance with the unanimous consent of its members and approval by the Senate.

(5) The United States will not be bound to take sides in a civil war unless the civil war includes "external armed aggression."

was "fine" until he awoke Monday morning.

He awoke feeling rapid pulsation and pounding heartbeat. I went outside, took a stone which was part of an Indian pestle, came back into the cabin, hit Flint and Jensen.

"I felt no compassion at the time, but was in somewhat of a stupor. I feel the greatest revulsion at this time, but can still speak objectively."

He said he then took Flint's car and went to the nearby resort, where he got Mrs. Paget, on a pretext, to go back with him to the Jensen cabin. He had been introduced to her by Flint the night before.

He continued his story: He hit her with the pestle as they entered the cabin, "intending to knock her out." He felt sorry for her when she fell down and told him of her two children. But she tried to get away when he went to get her some water.

"Originally I had no object in bringing her up there. As a means of soothing me, she offered herself and I accepted."

Other than his being "in a stupor," he gave no motive for the attack on the two men. Nor did he explain why he bludgeoned Mrs. Paget.

He said he tied Mrs. Paget to a tree in the back yard in order to give him time to get away. Then he took Flint's car, drove north to Eureka and registered at an inn as Henry B. Miller. He dined, danced and drank with girls at a bar until closing time.

He joined in community singing before he left, too.

Plane Kills Negro On Alabama Road; Army Flier Held

Lafayette, Ala., July 6 (AP)—Corp. Robert S. Penick, 22, charged with piloting a light plane that killed an aged negro wagon-driver, has been bound over to the Chambers county grand jury.

Penick was charged with manslaughter in the death of the negro, John H. Hall. The incident took place July 2 near Wadley, Ala.

Bond was set for the young Air Force corporal at $1,000 yesterday in a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace J. B. Stevens.

Penick is stationed at Shaw Field, Columbia, S. C. His home is Newellton, La.

Sheriff Jim Abney said Penick and three other soldiers were in the plane. The three companions were held as material witnesses but later released.

Abney gave this account: The plane approached at a low altitude. Hall stood up to quiet the team of mules. A wing of the plane struck him, knocking him to the ground.

The plane landed on the highway, then took off for Alexander City where the four were arrested. Hall died later in a hospital.
